#top quality products   #creative cuisine   #balance

Restaurant La Durée was launched in April 2007. From the beginning they try to do their own thing: no uniformity! By not letting them be distracted and by carefully filtering fleeting kitchen trends, Chef Angelo Rosseel brings a stable and well-founded creative cuisine, dishes nicely in balance, where only top quality products have a place.

The team is fully committed day after day to give the guests an unforgettable experience. The regular suppliers continue to search for the best products. The guests who have continued to believe and who have grown with them to where they are today. An evolution that culinary critics have been following with growing interest. As a result the restaurant has two Michelin stars and an outstanding quotation in Gault&Millau.
